“ Johnny truly was a great guy—one of the best. A rare find. His smile was absolutely infectious; you couldn’t help but smile when he looked at you. He was always so kind, gentle, giving, and full of love.

I met Johnny as a teenager, after moving in next door to him while attending Beloit Memorial High School. He had already graduated, and to me, he was the coolest guy in town—definitely cute and definitely worth skipping school for now and then! We had so much fun together and shared so many laughs.

I’ll never forget the times we spent swimming at the Cory, cruising the circuit in his cool car, or taking trips to northern Wisconsin. He showed me amazing places, like the Dells. I remember thinking how majestic the Cory looked as we floated around on a blow-up queen mattress we bought just for the occasion. It was perfect. And cars? He loved them—loved working on them and always made them better than before.

Eventually, life took us in different directions, but not before I carried our beautiful Morgan inside me. At that age, I didn’t have much life experience, especially when it came to love, and I wasn’t wise enough to realize that Johnny was a real keeper.

I’ll always carry a little piece of him with me—especially when I look at Morgan.

*Thank you, Johnny, for the love, the laughter, and the memories.
Until we meet again—rest well.*
