She loved making food for her family and those that came to visit. It was always a special treat when you found the tins of homemade sunbakkels, rosettes, and cookies that were part of her family heritage. She wrote countless letters and cards to numerous family and friends throughout the years and could be seen sitting at the table calling those that could not be there. Cards and boardgames were a favorite pastime that she shared with her husband, children, grandchildren and numerous family members. She was a longtime member of Beloit Central Christian Church, where she taught Sunday school.

She was a loving mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, and great-great-grandmother. She is survived by her daughters, Lachelle (Daniel) Bartle, Barb (Wayne) Schafer, and Marcene Kemp, eight grandchildren, and numerous great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.
